Sometimes colloquially described as "squatter's rights",[2] is a legal principle in the Anglo-American common law under which a person who does not have legal title to a piece of property—usually land (real property)—may acquire legal ownership based on continuous possession or occupation of the property without the permission (licence) of its legal owner.[3] The possession by a person is not adverse if they are in possession as a tenant or licensee of the legal owner.

In general, a property owner has the right to recover possession of their property from unauthorised possessors through legal action such as ejectment. However, in the English

[2] Squatting refers specifically to land ("real property") and is by far the most common form of adverse possession. Some jurisdictions have additional differences between "squatting" and adverse possession common law tradition, courts have long ruled that when someone occupies a piece of property without permission and the property's owner does not exercise their right to recover their property for a significant period of time, not only is the original owner prevented from exercising their right to exclude, but an entirely new title to the property "springs up" in the adverse possessor. In effect, the adverse possessor becomes the property's new owner.[2][b] [4] [5]Over time, legislatures have created statutes of limitations that specify the length of time that owners have to recover possession of their property from adverse possessors. In the United States, for example, these time limits vary widely between individual states, ranging from as low as three years to as long as 40 years.[6]

[3] "Adverse possession". Wex. Legal Information Institute. Retrieved 29 September 2017.

Although the elements of an adverse possession action are different in every jurisdiction, a person claiming adverse possession is usually required to prove non-permissive use of the property that is actual, open and notorious, exclusive, adverse and continuous for the statutory period.[7] [8]

Personal property, traditionally known as 'chattel', may also be adversely possessed, but owing to the differences in the nature of real and chattel property, the rules governing such claims are rather more stringent, and favour the legal owner rather than the adverse possessor. Claims for adverse possession of chattel often involve works of art.

Taking on the extraordinary powers of the Tax Office.

"You might say that murderers have more rights than taxpayers." Tax barrister

The Australia Taxation Office is a formidable enforcer with extraordinary powers. It can raid your home or business without a warrant, it can compel you to answer questions and treat you as guilty until proven innocent.

"(It) can effectively act like a judge, jury and executioner all rolled up into one. That's the problem." Tax barrister

While there's strong public support for a crackdown on major multinational corporations to force them to pay their fair share, there is growing concern that the Tax Office is targeting people a long way from the big end of town.

"They chase low-hanging fruit, people who are being honest and upright, and they whack them with a huge bill and then chase them." Small business lobbyist

In a major joint Four Corners/Fairfax investigation, reporter Adele Ferguson puts the actions of the Tax Office under the microscope, examining how it uses its extensive powers.

"How can you describe someone who's trying to destroy your livelihood and destroy your way of life? I'd call that evil." Business operator

"There's an agenda that's going on in there, and the Australian public know nothing about it." Business operator

CESTUI QUE VIE TRUST: Cestui que vie is French for he who lives. A cestui que trust is the person entitled to an equitable, rather than legal, trust in the estate assets. The concept is used in modern life and health insurance policies, where cestui que vie is an individual whose life measures the duration of the insurance contract.

History of Cestui Que Vie

Cestui que vie as a legal concept date to the medieval period, specifically England. During this time, the owners of farms and other properties could be absent for extended periods of time as they travelled, whether for business or religious purposes. It became important to ensure that family members, business partners or tenants could use the property without fear of it being expropriated by feudal lords. While the individual was away, a trustee took care of the land but did not retain legal ownership over the property. The trust often relied on a good faith understanding between the parties.

In practice, it was often a way to avoid paying taxes by granting land and property to the Church, which was exempt from taxation, while still allowing descendants to reside in and enjoy the estates. Henry VIII, under his advisers Thomas Cromwell and Thomas More, attempted to invalidate cestui que vie trusts, a process that continued under the English Reformation.

The year the British government enacted the Cestui Que Vie Act.[9]

[9] U.K. Government. "Cestui Que Vie Act 1666." https://www.legislation.gov.uk/aep/Cha2/18-19/11

After the Great Plague of 1665 and the Great Fire of 1666 had destroyed London, the British government enacted the Cestui Que Vie Act in 1666, which reinstated the legal concept. After those twin catastrophes, hundreds of thousands of British citizens died or fled. In response, the government took all private property into the trust until the proper heirs or owners could be identified—the cestui que vie. Some parts of the 1666 Act are still the law in the United Kingdom.

The legal concepts behind cestui que vie changed a bit over the centuries to reduce fraud and to ensure that property owners couldn't shift their property into trusts in order to dodge creditors. More recently, laws against property held in perpetuity required that parties named as the beneficiaries in a trust should vest, and thus have an interest in the trust rather than passively receive benefits.

When a trust is created it is done for the benefit of a specific individual who is identified in the trust document. In a trust, the cestui que trust is the person who has an equitable interest in the trust. The legal title of the trust, however, is given to the trustee. Cestui qui use, or he who uses, is the person for whose benefit the trust is made. During the medieval period, cestui que use arrangements became so common that they were often assumed to be present even when they had not been arranged.

The original purpose of a CQV Trust was to form a temporary Estate for the benefit of another because some event, situation, or condition prevented the people from claiming their status as living, competent, and present, before a competent authority. The CIVIL registration of births and deaths commenced 1st July 1837 in Australia.

Cestui Que Vie Is Now a Part of Modern Law

The assets of a Trust vest in the Trustees from time to time who are indemnified by the assets of the Trust in respect to claims by creditors. Upon service of the First Enactment dated 1st June 2019 on the Crown and the Head of the Windsor family all of the assets of all trusts the Queen and Her Majesty's agents were trustees of were seized and retained by the Crown Attorney General in perpetuity for the Benefit of TAGFILT (66.666%) and BWFF (33.333%).

CRIMINAL TRESPASS:[10][11] [12]Trespassing can have both civil and criminal consequences. A property owner may be able to sue someone who enters their land without permission. Meanwhile, the trespasser also may face charges. The prosecutor would need to prove that the defendant intentionally entered someone else’s property without permission or remained there after being told to leave. This charge usually arises in the context of private property, but it can also arise if someone enters a store or other business, or even a city or state park, when they are not permitted to be there. At common law a trespass was not criminal unless it was accomplished by violence or breached the peace. Some modern statutes make any unlawful entry onto another's property a crime. When the trespass involves violence or injury to a person or property, it is always considered criminal, and penalties may be increased for more serious or malicious acts. Criminal intent may have to be proved to convict under some statutes, but in some states trespass is a criminal offense regardless of the defendant's intent.

Some statutes consider a trespass criminal only if the defendant has an unlawful purpose in entering or remaining in the place where he has no right to be. The unlawful purpose may be an attempt to disrupt a government office, theft, or Arson. Statutes in some states specify that a trespass is not criminal until after a warning, either spoken or by posted signs, has been given to the trespasser. Criminal trespass is punishable by fine or imprisonment or both.

CROWN SOLICITOR'S IN OFFICE IN THE STATE OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA; The Crown Solicitor of South Australia provides legal services to South Australian government Ministers, agencies, and departments.

With the establishment of the Province of South Australia, the colony's first "First Law Officer" Charles Mann was appointed Advocate-General, Crown Solicitor and Public Prosecutor. The appointment as Advocate-General bestowed the office holder with membership of the Council in Government. With the arrival of self-government in 1857, the position of Advocate-General became that of Attorney-General.

In the early days of the colony the titles of Advocate-General, Crown Solicitor and Public Prosecutor were bestowed together. That changed in 1850 due to the ill-health of then Advocate-General, William Smillie. Because of Smillie's ill-health, the position of Crown Solicitor was given to Charles Mann. Mann briefly held the title of Acting Advocate-General before resigning that position in favour of Richard Hanson. Hanson became South Australia's last Advocate-General and the provinces first Attorney-General in the inaugural Parliament in 1857.

Since 1850, the position of Crown Solicitor has been a public sector employee. The current Crown Solicitor of South Australia, as of 8 November 2021, is Ingrid Norman.

DISCRETIONARY PUBLIC POWERS means Impartial, accountable, and transparent decision making, particularly when it involves public servants exercising their discretion, is a cornerstone of anti-corruption. Discretionary powers exercised by administrative and legal authorities are permissive, and not binding. These powers are granted to these officials by statute or delegation. Discretionary powers do not impose an obligation on a decision-maker to exercise them or to exercise them in a particular manner.

Administrative agencies must exercise discretionary powers in accordance to legal requirements. Discretionary power must be used reasonably, impartially and avoiding oppression or unnecessary injury.

Generally, administrative agencies are given broad discretion to exercise their administrative authority. Generally, statutes expressly confer right to exercise discretionary power to administrative agencies. However, administrative agencies' duties necessarily include the right to exercise discretion. Reason for granting discretionary power to administrative agencies is because they possess experience and specialization in a particular area. This experience and specialization help agencies in making decisions in the agencies' area of expertise.

Administrative agencies are provided with discretionary power to ascertain place and time to hear and decide matters that come before it. Agencies have the power to prosecute or enforce matters through civil or criminal process.

Administrative law judges have discretion to abstain from participating in a legal proceeding due to a conflict of interest of the adjudicator.[13]Abuse of the discretionary power can be alleged only to reverse a decision and not to allow it. In addition to that, an adjudicator has power to decide whether, or not, to impose a sanction. [14]

In Mobil Oil Exploration & Producing Southeast v. United Distrib. Cos., 498 U.S. 211 (U.S. 1991), the US Supreme Court stated that an administrative agency enjoys wide discretion in ascertaining best way to handle related, yet discrete issues in terms of procedures and priorities. Administrative agencies exercise wide discretion in selecting the methods to attain the legislature's goals. Administrative agencies can adopt rules and policies to carry out duties delegated by legislature. The rules and policies should be consistent with statutory provisions. This discretion is allowed to administrative agencies to adapt their rules and policies to the demands of changing circumstances. Administrative agencies' discretionary power extends to deciding remedies for infringement of agency policies. Administrative agencies have specialized knowledge and power to achieve legislature's objectives. Hence, the agencies have discretion to develop appropriate enforcement policy to attain statutory obligations. Administrative agencies can also decide on appropriation of funds available, efficiently, and economically to accomplish its policies.

The United Kingdom High Court has ruled that directors who made representations that a company would meet its rental obligations on certain of its leases of property, when they had no intention of making payments after a certain date, were involved in fraudulent trading for the purposes of the Insolvency Act 1986. They were required to make a monetary contribution to the company's assets in its liquidation, as were solicitors involved in the scheme that resulted in non-payment of the rent.[15]

Mr McRAE: *This is the one clause on which the Opposition will divide. It is a new clause. is now assuming Mafia proportions. It has written the Bill and the amendments, it has appointed the members, it controls the whole of the discipline, and the money, and now it even keeps the accounts. If Government back-benchers are not disturbed about that, I am absolutely stunned.

Mr McRAE: I am trying to indicate to the Government back-benchers that, if they want to get some respectability into this whole farce, the circumstances that we have had tonight, they should at least make the society produce the accounts in Parliament. If everything else is to be secret , Parliament has no function at all.

Mr CRAFTER: It is a secret society.

Mr McRAE: It is a totally secret society. I indicated earlier that in many ways I support the Law Society, but in other respects I am critical of it.

LICENSED TO LIE refers to the interpretation by public officials of conduct allowable in circumstances of fake regulation.

The Commonwealth, the States and Territories of Australia, The State of Colorado and the Federation the States and territories of the United States of America have perpetuated a system of equity abuse as money laundering that is at odds with the International Covenant of Civil and Political Rights and the law referred to in UN Fact Sheet No 2 whereby Officers, Employees, Servants, Agents, Licensees, Contractors and otherwise related to the three arms of government believe they are licensed to lie[19] and steal equity[20,21,22] from individual and corporate citizens subject to payment of tax on Ill Gotten Gains as Ill Gotten Tax Revenues in perpetuation of Common Law Torts of Criminal Defamation, Champerty, Maintenance and Barratry.

The Honorable Justice John Dixon in Judgment[23] dated 11th October 2021 has today found that a litigation funder and five lawyers ('contraveners') engaged in egregious conduct in connection with a fraudulent scheme, intending to claim more than $19 million in purported legal costs and funding commission from the settlement sum in a group proceeding. Justice John Dixon noted that the contravener's conduct had shattered confidence in, and expectations of, lawyers as an honorable profession, and corrupted the proper administration of justice.
His Honour concluded that the contraveners' actions were appalling breaches of their respective duties to the court, particularly the paramount duty and overarching obligations imposed on them by the Civil Procedure Act 2010 (Vic). Justice John Dixon ordered that they pay damages of $11,700,128 to approximately 16,000 group members, plus the costs of the remitter on an indemnity basis.

His Honour further ordered that:

SOLICITOR GENERAL; see The Role of the Solicitor-General: Negotiating Law, Politics, and the Public Interest 2016 by Gabrielle Appleby

In Australia the role of the Solicitor-General is as the second law officer after the Attorney-General. At federal level, the position of Solicitor-General of Australia was created in 1916 and until 1964 was held by the secretary of the Attorney-General's Department. It has always been held by a public servant. At state (and prior to 1901, colonial) level, the position has existed since the granting of self-government in the 19th century, and until the early 20th century was held by a member of parliament. During the 20th century there have been significant changes to the role, becoming increasingly independent and non-political to balance the increasing political engagement of the Attorney-General. Criminal litigation has largely been devolved to the various Directors of Public Prosecution. The Solicitor-General provides legal advice to the executive and represents the relevant government in court proceedings, particularly in constitutional matters.[24]

"Sir John Coles, who concluded that "redefining Britain's relationship with Australia" was "long overdue";

In a confidential and colourful 15-page dispatch titled 'Australia: Image and Reality', Sir John attempts to help bureaucrats in London better understand the "rapidly changing Australian society".

"In order to protect and advance our substantial interests we need to be as aware of the nature of that society as we are of the societies of our European, North American and other allies", his dossier begins.

"But somehow that knowledge does not come so easily in the case of Australia.

"The British media show little interest in the real problems of this country.

"The Australian myth is that this is the land of opportunity, the land where the class system of Britain and elsewhere does not exist, where no person is better than the next, where everyone is entitled to 'a fair go', where the 'battler', given a modicum of luck, can achieve the good life and rise to whatever position his talents entitle him.

"This land of 'mate ship' and democracy has more private schools than Britain.

"And the 'battler'? The people of this country have become 'soft'.

"The effects of easy living on the majority of Australians are all too apparent in the relative absence of the work ethic and in denigrating attitudes towards achievement and productivity.

"The soap-opera 'Neighbours' is a more accurate picture of Australia than the 'Flying Doctors'.

"The confidence that Australia is the best is a constant in the daily scene here.

"The Australian audience loves to be told that this or that Australian achievement has no equal.

AUSTRALIA: IMAGE AND REALITY

THE BRITISH HIGH COMMISSIONER AT CANBERRA TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR FOREIGN AND COMMONWEALTH AFFAIRS

SUMMARY

AUSTRALIA: IMAGE AND REALITY

1. Australian society is changing rapidly. Is Australian confidence in its superiority well-based? (Paragraphs 1 - 6)

2. The elements of the Australian myth (Paragraph 7) contrasted with the reality.

3. The political system provides genuine democracy but Australia is over-governed. Serious corruption and/or maladministration in state governments. (Paragraphs 9 - 12)

4. The country of the "fair go" may be becoming less fair. The land of "mateship" has its class distinctions. (Paragraphs 13 - 16)

The High Commissioner went on to make a devastating assessment of Australia's three tiers of government – local, state and federal.

"Despite the much expressed contempt for governments this is in some ways the greatest nanny-state of all.

"The major charge which can be fairly levelled against public administration in Australia is that of corruption.

"Some of the states are notorious," he noted, adding that earlier in 1989 "many heads rolled" in Queensland.

"The New South Wales Minister for Police told me some time ago that if there was ever an enquiry into corruption in his own police force it would make the Queensland affair look like a children's tea-party.

"The long-established corruption and maladministration in the States are a bad blemish on the country's political system.

"The quality of government at State level is generally poor.

"Yet I do not find that surprising.

"The population base of 16 million is too small to provide politicians of high quality to man political parties in nine separate political units."

The High Commissioner observed, "the Australian media are notorious for their low standards of journalism, their scurrilousness, triviality and bias", and their reporting of the Prime Minister's visit was largely "snide comment, half-baked and out-of-date ideas about Britain and grudging admiration of the Prime Minister"

There was, however, one topic on which the pair did agree: Australia receiving one of two original copies of the Australian Constitution.

A directive sent from Downing Street reveals that, despite refusals from the Lord Chancellor and Civil Service, Mrs Thatcher was "sympathetic to the request" and pushed ahead with her instructions for one of the documents to be sent to Canberra.

The memo read: "(T)he Prime Minister said that the birth of a nation was a remarkable event and not to have it legitimized by a birth certificate must be galling, especially when the foster parents had two. She wondered how people in this country would feel if somebody else had two copies of the Magna Carta and we had none. She thought we were being selfish in refusing the Australians."

Mr Hawke had made four formal requests that had been politely declined, refusing to accept the offer of a replica, noting, "permanent possession of the original document containing the Australian Constitution is a matter of great consequence for all Australians".

The Foreign Minister, Gareth Evans, didn't appear, however, to share the Prime Minister's determination. When Britain's Foreign Secretary raised the issue with him directly during a meeting at CHOGM in Kuala Lumpur in 1989, the minutes noted,

"Senator Evans reacted with surprise… saying that 'he didn't give a stuff about the Constitution Act'".

WRONGFUL TRADING occurs when a company's directors have continued to trade when they knew, or should have concluded, that there was no reasonable prospect that the company would avoid insolvent liquidation or insolvent administration. Ordinarily, a director is under a duty to act in the best interests of a company and its shareholders.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The trustee has prepared the financial statements of the trust on the basis that the trust is a non-reporting entity, because there are no users dependent on general purpose financial statements. These financial statements are therefore special purpose financial statements that have been prepared to meet the requirements of the Board of Trustees, beneficiaries of the trust, and their information needs.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the significant accounting policies disclosed below, which the trustees have determined are appropriate to meet the purposes of preparation. Such accounting policies are consistent with the previous period unless stated otherwise.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs unless stated otherwise in the notes. The accounting policies that have been adopted in the preparation of these statements are as follows:

Denomination of Amounts

The Financial Statements are prepared in Australian Dollars. In addition, the amounts involved in each year and on each row, for each item, vary greatly in amount and cannot be defined for simplicity per column. As such, we have had to categorize each amount to the power of ‘10’. For example, if an amount is $10 million, this is shown as 10(10^6).

Identification

The Trust as varied by Deeds of Variation Andrew Garrett Family Trust, The Garrett Family Trust, The Andrew Garrett Family Trust No 2, The Andrew Garrett Family Trust No 3, The Averil Garrett Family Trust and The Andrew Garrett Family Trust No 4 is identified by the following:

Property, Plant & Equipment

Property, plant and equipment including freehold land and buildings, are carried at cost unless otherwise stated. Depreciable assets are depreciated over their useful life to the trust, these are fully detailed in the Accounts of the entities disclosed to be under the Controllership of the Crown Attorney General as disclosed to the various Commissioners of Taxation or otherwise under treaties.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated on either a straight line or diminishing value basis over the useful life of property, plant and equipment (excluding freehold land). The depreciation method and useful life of assets is reviewed regularly to ensure they are still appropriate.

Trade & Other Receivables

Receivables are recognized at their transaction price, less any provision for impairment. Trade receivables are based on normal credit terms and do not bear interest.

Cash & Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, on demand and short-term investments which are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value. Bank overdrafts also form part of cash equivalents and are presented within current liabilities on the statement of financial position when applicable.

The Cash Receivable from the Central Banks of the World are mirrored in the accounts of TAGFILT as payable:

1. firstly, to the Cash at Call Account No 8877544399; held with the RBA

2. secondly, to the Cash at Call Account No AU8877544399.01082008; held with TAGFILT trading as Dynamic Capital Bank/Banca Como/OenoViva Capital Resources etc

Revenue & Other Income

Sales revenue and other revenue are recognized when they are received or when the right to receive payment is established.

Trade & Other Payables

Trade payables are recognized at their transaction price. Trade payables are obligations based on normal credit terms and do not bear interest.

Goods & Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses, and assets are recognized net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Tax Office. In these circumstances, the GST is recognized as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

Borrowings

Borrowings are recognized initially at fair values, less any attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, borrowings are stated at amortized cost with any difference between cost and redemption value being recognized in the income statement over the period of the borrowings on an effective interest rate basis. Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the entity has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability to at least 12 months after the balance sheet date.
Borrowing costs are recognized as expenses using the effective interest rate method unless incurred for the construction of a qualifying asset where during the time of construction the borrowing costs are capitalized.

3. Income

Income is calculated in accordance with Court rules relating to Admissions of Facts, Indebtedness and Liability of Regina (Managing Controller Appointed) at Common Law at a rate of 1% per month multiplied by the provisions of s8 and otherwise of the Registration of Deeds Act 1935 (SA) and the Real Property Act 1908 (SA) that is also the subject of Estoppel in all forms.

All income disclosed in these and other special purpose accounts of the Trust, are the subject of Admissions of Fact by the Crown.

There is no evidence before me that the before described amounts appear in the ATO Portal for TAGFILT as facilitated by the RBA on the instructions of the Commissioner of Taxation pursuant to PSLA 2012/6 or otherwise by collecting funds from the US Federal Reserve System, a failure to arrange that collection also attracts the Model Litigant Penalty

All of the above disclose the available cash at call and asset backing of TAGFILT and BWFF.

Extremely Serious findings of fact were made in the Haynes Royal Commission into the Finance Sector during the period YEJ 2019 without any meaningful enforcement in respect to the exercise of discretionary public powers in that sector being "Fake Regulation", collapse of Rule of Law and breaches of Separation of Powers in respect to misconduct and malfeasance of the Judicial Profession, the Legal Profession, Accounting Profession, Banking Profession, and the Regulators evidencing that Self-Regulation is Mis-Regulation in perpetuation of Tax Revenues that are "Ill Gotten" by practicing the Common Law Torts of Criminal Defamation, Champerty, Maintenance and Barratry as disclosed in the recitals to the grant of the License to OenoViva Business Systems Intellectual Property for the Territory of Luxembourg produced and shown as Exhibits AMG 5664a AMG 5664b, AMG 5664c, AMG 5664d and AMG 5664e as Annexure C to the Tax Return for the period YEJ 2022 served on the ATO and the RBA.

ASIC entered unlawful and invalid Memoranda of Understanding with the following Agencies of the Crown in order to impermissibly fetter the exercise of discretionary public powers conferred under enactments and thereby effectively control the transfer of stored value and weaponize the Monetary System via the following Memorandums of Understanding between ASIC and:

- The RBA dated 18th March 2002 (AMG 2235)
- Australian Competition & Consumer Commission (ACCC) dated 15th December 2004 (AMG
- 2233)
- Commonwealth Director of Public Prosecutions (CDPP) dated 1st March 2006 (AMG 2239)
- Australian Prudential Regulatory Authority (APRA) dated 18th May 2010. (AMG 2234)
- Australian Financial Security Authority (AFSA) dated 30th September 2014. (AMG 2236)
- Australian Stock Exchange Limited (ASX) dated 28th October 2011. (AMG 2237)
- The ATO dated 21st December 2012. (AMG 2238)
- The Federal Court of Australia (AMG 295, AMG 296 and AMG 297 including Transcripts of Senate Inquiry 19th January 2016 Admission of breach of Separation of Powers by the ATO)

Despite those findings and similar serious findings of malfeasance in public office made against ASIC and the Agencies above pursuant to Senate Enquiries in 2010 and 2014, ASIC remains substantially out of control and unregulated such that Self-Regulation is Mis-Regulation as evidenced by the Commonwealth Ombudsman own motion enquiry in 2015 which made no such findings and no effective means of regulation.

Subsequently, Similar Notices to Admit Facts were also served on Regina (Managing Controller Appointed), the Reserve Bank of Australia the Australian Securities and Investment Commission, Commonwealth Bank of Australia, Westpac Banking Corporation and ANZ Banking Group Limited and other entities the subject of instructions to DW Fox Tucker Lawyers and as otherwise set out in Exhibit AMG 87.

In accordance with the provisions of the Charter, the Constitution, and the Common Law those Notices to Admit Facts have been deemed to be admitted within 14 days of service in which regard Estoppel in all its forms applies.

As a direct consequence of interreference in the transfer of stored value by the Crown and more particularly the ATO, the RBA, Australian Signals Directorate and Australian Centre For Cyber Security in respect to criminal defamation tactics designed to discredit the Trustee and the source of stored value the Trustee has elected to declare that stored value to the government of the United States of America amongst other Governments and pay the SEC Fees as required by the United States Government. https://oenoviva-capital-resources.com/2020/11/20/notice-of-criminal-defamation-imputed-concerns-dated-10th-june-2020/ (AMG 2610 & AMG 2627)

In accordance with the findings of the Full Bench of the Federal Court of Australia in Commissioner of Taxation v Multiflex Pty Ltd (includes Corrigendum dated 18 November 2011) [2011] FCAFC 142 (11 November 2011) and in the absence of issuing a Notice under s8AAZLGA of the Taxation Administration Act 1953 (AU) by the Australian Commissioner of Taxation has a public duty to pay immediately the amount of liability admitted to be owed by the Crown to the Beneficiary Tax Account held by the Tax Payer with the RBA with the same Account Number Identity as the ABN in order to create a running Balance of Account (working Overdraft Purchased Payment Facility) of those moneys not disputed to be owed by the Crown to the Taxpayer as identified by the TFN or vice versa.

Until the date of these findings the Commonwealth of Australia disclosed its annual accounts to the SEC with Data source identity: CIK0000805157.json

The Crown has ceased making SEC filings because it does not wish to disclose the true indebtedness of the Crown in the Annual Financial Statements such that Ratings Agencies will downgrade the AAA++ Status of the Commonwealth of Australia currently published.

The Failure by the Reserve Bank of Australia and the Auditor General of Australian to disclose the indebtedness of the Crown to the Trust and the failure to credit the Beneficiary Account with the Moneys Owed, does not negate the debt admitted owed to the Trust, as identified by the TFN.

The Credit Rating arguably remains unchanged in the circumstances of the Change in Control by appointment of Managing Controller and the beneficial ownership of Corporate Commonwealth of Australia has changed from the Windsor Family to the Andrew Garrett Family.

The Trustee Reserves all rights to make further disclosures for the period 28th February 1981 to today's date when the files the property of TAGFILT held by Finlayson's Lawyers, Phillips Fox Lawyers, Minter Ellison Lawyers, Arthur Andersons Accountants and Advisors, BDO Accountants and Advisors, Lancione Partners, Griffins Lawyers , Georgiadis Lawyers, Johnson Winter And Slattery Lawyers, Lipman Karas Lawyers, National Australia Bank ,Peter Ivan Macks Stephen James Duncan, Timothy Holden, Australian Government Solicitor, the Law Society of \South Australia, the South Australian Crown Solicitors Office, the South Australian Office of Premier and Cabinet, The Office of the Australian Premier and Cabinet amongst others, and discloses that reassessment will only result in a greater income to be disclosed as a result of liability of the Crown failing to regulate its licensees and otherwise.
